A book may sometimes appear to be a boring object that people read only when they need information. Actually, this is not really true. I have discovered how books open new doors to experiences. I read to entertain myself. When I read, I become part of the book and its adventure, the wonderful stories take me away into another world, the world of fantasy. If I am reading about knights and dragons, I can imagine Myself living as a knights in shiny armour or as the fearful dragon.

Reading brings out my emotions because a story can make me depressed or extremely happy. I enjoy being moved by what I read.
